ISDCF Plugfest 2025

Universal Multimedia Access Srl & Iguale

Introduction

MovieReading is an app and service that enhances your movie experience by providing access to additional content in multiple languages. This includes subtitles, audio descriptions, sign language, and alternate audio tracks. It revolutionizes how people with different language preferences or those with hearing or visual impairments enjoy films and multimedia content.

The app is designed for multilingual audiences, offering content in various languages to ensure that language barriers do not impede the enjoyment of films.

Subtitles in multiple languages are seamlessly displayed on your smartphone or tablet, perfectly synchronized with the movie you're watching.

Sign language tracks are available, providing an additional layer of accessibility for sign language users.

For those with visual impairments, the app offers rich audio descriptions that narrate the visual elements of the film, creating an immersive experience.
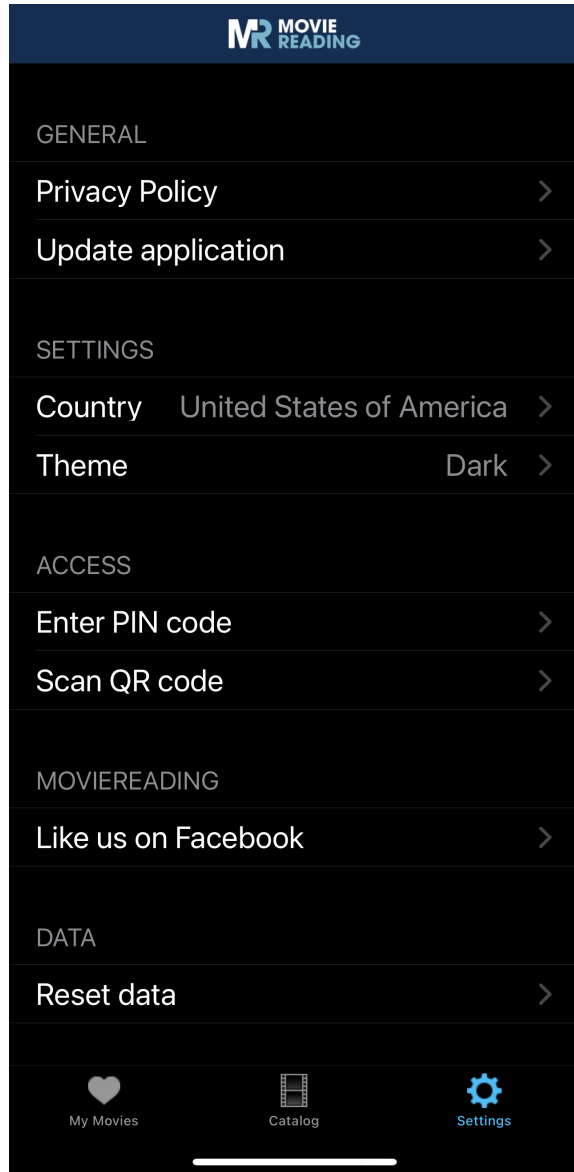

By utilizing your device's microphone, MovieReading ensures that these features are flawlessly in sync with the movie playback, whether you're in a cinema or at home.

MovieReading is committed to making the magic of movies accessible to everyone, fostering a truly inclusive movie-going experience.

Tap on any asset to download it.

Feel free to download as many assets as you like and disregard the 24-hour limit warning, as the test content will remain accessible until the Plugfest.

Using the assets

Go to the My Movies section and choose the Elevation movie to access all your downloaded assets. Tap on any asset to activate it, and the app will seamlessly detect the movie's audio, synchronizing the selected asset in real-time for a smooth and immersive experience.

While the movie is playing, return to the asset list and select a different asset to explore the options that captivate your interest.

For the best experience, please connect your headphones before enjoying any of the audio tracks.
